

LANCELIN VOLUNTEER MARINE RESCUE BUILDING

464. Mr R.S. LOVE to the Minister for Emergency Services:

I have a supplementary question. Has the minister consulted with the transport minister, or any other minister for that matter, on how the government can assist in this situation? If not, I urge the minister to do so immediately. There is imminent danger of the erosion actually impacting the building. It is not something we have time to discuss and to make lovely plans about. There is an immediate need.

The SPEAKER: Member, can you ask a direct question, please.

Mr R.S. LOVE: Has the minister consulted with other government members about this?

Mr F.M. LOGAN replied:

The answer is yes, and also the actual Department of Fire and Emergency Services' own consultation, as I said, with the shire itself and with the VMR. This is not new. This happened last year as well, and it happened years before.

Mr R.S. Love interjected.

Mr F.M. LOGAN: I am trying to help the member for Moore here. It is a serious issue; I understand it. But it requires a long-term fix. The member knows that.
