Section 82 Notice – Financial Management Act 2006
Legislative Council Question on Notice 3949

Pursuant to section 82 of the Financial Management Act 2006, I give notice to both houses that I am unable to provide an answer to some of part (b)(i) of Legislative Council Question on Notice 3949.

Notice is also being provided to the Auditor General, as required under section 82 of the Financial Management Act 2006.

Please see attached Question on Notice 3949 Part (b)(i) for a description of the information requested.

With respect to the request for the amount of annual funding provided to groups sponsored by the State Government, I am not prepared to include the quantum provided by Tourism Western Australia (Tourism WA) for the following specific events:

- Ironman WA Triathlon Busselton
- Hopman Cup
- Margaret River Pro – WCT
- Perth Aquatic Super Series
- Perth Fashion Festival
- Gran Fondo Cycling World Series Qualifier
- Perth International
- V8 Supercars
- Constellation Cup Australian Diamonds vs NZ Silver Ferns
- FIFA World Cup Qualifier Socceroos vs Bangladesh
- Australian Junior Athletics Championships
- Busselton Festival of Triathlon
- Hot Air Ballooning Championships Northam
- Margaret River Gourmet Escape
- Ironman 70.3 Championships Mandurah
- Sculpture by the Sea

In making this decision I have considered the public interest and while the public has a general right of access to information held by government agencies, this right has to be balanced against the need to protect the financial and commercial affairs of the State.

The information requested has not been provided for the following reasons:

Tourism WA competes to develop and secure events for Western Australia in the highly competitive national and international markets. Many of the events listed on the previous page are considered attractive to other destinations and could potentially be poached if sponsorship information was released. Others could become more expensive to secure and retain if event holders knew how much the State Government was prepared to pay.

The public release of funding information compromises Tourism WA's ability to successfully negotiate with event holders to secure world class events for the State. It would provide other Australian States/Territories or overseas destinations with an unfair advantage, whereby knowledge of sponsorship paid could be used to outbid Western Australia for an event.

In addition, if event holders became aware of how much the State Government is prepared to pay to secure and retain events, the overall cost of events to the State could increase.

The release of sponsorship information would significantly impact Tourism WA's business, professional, commercial and financial affairs, as well as those of associated third parties, such as event holders, in relation to their negotiations with other States/Territories where an event is held in multiple jurisdictions e.g. V8 Supercars.

The highly competitive events environment is demonstrated in the enclosed article from the 24 March 2010 edition of The Australian, "SA vows to fight move by the Victoria government" which details how the Victorian Government tried to poach a South Australian Government sponsored event. The reality of working in a highly competitive and commercial environment is that failure to keep commercially sensitive information out of the public domain could result in a popular event becoming increasingly vulnerable to the poaching activities of national and international entities.

The standard industry practice worldwide is for financial and contractual information related to events to be kept strictly confidential. Tourism WA is unaware of any other Australian jurisdiction or competing overseas destination that releases this information.

The enclosed article from the 4 December 2013 edition of The Sydney Morning Herald, titled "Melbourne's all-night White Night festival back in the swim with bigger footprint", provides an insight into the approach taken by the Victorian Government and states "Funded by the state government through the Victorian Major Events Company, the budget for White Night is a closely guarded secret...".

Also enclosed is an excerpt from the Victorian Parliament Hansard dated 19 March 2013, in which the Minister for Arts responded to Legislative Assembly Question on Notice 362 on the White Night Melbourne festival as follows: "like all agreements to bring major events to Melbourne, there are strict confidentiality conditions in place to ensure Victoria maintains its strategic advantage in a highly competitive environment. The amount of funding allocated to White Night Melbourne is therefore commercial-in-confidence".

The Liberal National Government takes very seriously its responsibility to grow visitor numbers by securing and retaining an attractive and diversified events calendar. A key strategy is to safeguard information that may jeopardise the State's business relationships, reputation and ability to negotiate successfully with event holders if made public.

Should you have any queries relating to this matter, please contact Tourism WA Executive Director Corporate and Business Services, Mr David Lowe, by email to david.lowe@westernaustralia.com or by telephone on 9262 1852.

Yours sincerely

MEMBERSHIPS AND SPONSORSHIPS

3949. Hon Kate DOUST to the parliamentary secretary representing the Minister for Tourism:

For each agency, department and government trading enterprise within the Minister's portfolio of responsibilities, I ask:

- (a) what memberships are currently held:
  - (i) how much does each membership cost annually; and
  - (ii) what tangible benefits does the membership provide; and

- (b) what groups are currently sponsored:
  - (i) how much does each sponsorship cost annually; and
  - (ii) what tangible benefits does the sponsorship provide?

SA vows to fight move by Victoria government

THE Rann government says it is taking seriously the latest threat by Victoria to poach its premier motorsport event.

As reported in The Australian today, the Victorian government will consider poaching Adelaide's successful Clipsal 500 to replace the Australian Grand Prix if it loses the Formula One race.

South Australian Motor Sport Minister Kevin Foley said the threat should not be downplayed.

"We take any threat to the Clipsal 500 seriously - it is the single biggest event in the V8 supercar calendar," he said.

"But I am confident Clipsal will continue to be a great event in Adelaide."

Melbourne is contracted for the Grand Prix until 2015, the same year as Adelaide's contract for the V8 Supercar event is up for grabs.

The Kennett government poached the Grand Prix from Adelaide 15 years ago.

Victoria has lost more than $250m since it secured the Grand Prix, while the Clipsal 500, which South Australia started 12 years ago as a replacement for Formula One, is currently the only V8 Supercar race to make a profit.

Victorian Major Events Minister Louise Asher said the Clipsal 500 could be a major event of benefit to Victoria.

"Victoria is the major events capital of Australia, we host outstanding major events and compete globally to secure major events," she said.

However, Ms Asher said the government would not discuss details of its "potential future bid".

Legendary international motorsport caller Murray Walker last week said the Adelaide event was "the greatest touring car event in the world, in my opinion", with more than 280,000 people at the Adelaide street circuit on the weekend.

South Australian opposition motor sport spokesman Martin Hamilton-Smith said the Baillieu government was eyeing off the Clipsal 500, after it ordered a comprehensive study to help it weigh up the cost of hosting the Grand Prix against the financial benefits.

"The Victorian government is looking at the success of the Clipsal 500 here and saying 'we could set up the same track, we could do the same theme each year'," he said.

"If they won the Clipsal 500 they could save themselves about $45m a year and get the same crowd numbers in their capital city."

Melbourne's all-night White Night festival back in the swim with bigger footprint

Melbourne's White Night Festival will be back with a splash in 2014 – and organisers are betting on up to 500,000 people packing into the city's centre for the all-night arts and culture event.

A non-stop synchronised swimming performance at the Melbourne City Baths will add a new venue and extend the February 22 festival's footprint further along Swanston Street, as artistic director Andrew Walsh and his team look for ways to keep people moving between the festival's two key "hubs" and avoid some of the pedestrian gridlock that occurred at this year's inaugural White Night.

Funded by the state government through the Victorian Major Events Company, the budget for White Night is a closely guarded secret, although this year it also received some financial and in-kind support from the City of Melbourne. Government expectations are high that the 2014 event will build on this year's success, with Premier Denis Napthine saying it will "reinforce Melbourne as one of the great arts and culture cities of the world".

Conservative estimates pegged attendance at about 300,000 people this year. "We were very happy with the numbers but we anticipate that the numbers will only grow, so ... we feel we need to expand the precinct," Walsh said.

The festival will have two main hubs – one to the north of the city around the State Library, RMIT and Melbourne City Baths, and the other at the southern end of Swanston Street including Flinders Street, Federation Square and StKilda Road to the National Gallery of Victoria.

In between will be two music stages – "Northern Lights", curated by the Cat Empire's Felix Riebl and "J+RnB", the renamed jazz and blues stage that will move from narrow Degraves Street on to the Bourke Street Mall.

The popular "Wonderland" precinct returns with projections by The Electric Canvas illuminating city buildings.

The city's key cultural institutions, including Melbourne Museum, the NGV, ACMI, Arts Centre Melbourne and the State Library will again be open, or partially open, from dusk until dawn, as will the RMIT gallery. Swimmers from Victorian Synchronised Swimmers Incorporated will take over the City Baths, a building Walsh described as one of the city's treasures.

City of Melbourne pedestrian data shows crowd numbers peaked between 8pm and midnight during this year's event, particularly around Birrarung Marr, Princes Bridge and Flinders Street station.

This intersection proved difficult for many to cross later in the night as crowd numbers exploded, something organisers want to avoid in 2014. "What I've tried to do is create works, especially in the public domain, that are capable of handling large amounts of people," Walsh said. "If people turn up at three o'clock in the morning, I don't want them to have to stand in a queue for half the night."

Further program details, including the music line-up, will be released early next year.

Arts: White Night Melbourne—funding

3622. Mr FOLEY to ask the Minister for the Arts—With reference to the 2013 White Night Melbourne event to be held on Saturday 23 February 2013:

- (1) What funding has the government made available for the event.
- (2) What budget arrangements have been made for payment or support to:
  - (a) artists;
  - (b) arts organisations;
  - (c) venues;
  - (d) other participating organisations as part of the event.

ANSWER:

- (1) Like all agreements to bring major events to Melbourne, there are strict confidentiality conditions in place to ensure Victoria maintains its strategic advantage in a highly competitive environment. The amount of funding allocated to White Night Melbourne is therefore commercial-in-confidence.
- (2) The Victorian government commits an annual amount to our major events strategy through the Victorian Major Events Company, and support for all events is managed within that total budget.

The budget allocated for White Night Melbourne 2013 will cover artists' fees, organisation and venue costs, and other event outlays such as safety, security and transport.
