

POLICE — CRIME RATES

1053. Mrs M.H. ROBERTS to the Minister for Police:

I have a supplementary. Are not unprecedented increases in crime, a huge blow-out in response times, the worst road toll of any state in the country, a methamphetamine epidemic, shocking increases in domestic violence and scathing criticism by the Corruption and Crime Commission about major crime investigations all good reasons for the minister to admit that she has failed and to step aside?

Mrs L.M. HARVEY replied:

The short answer: no.
