

ROAD SAFETY — FUNDING PACKAGE

474. Mrs M.H. ROBERTS to the Minister for Road Safety:

I have a supplementary question. Minister, where are the 64 000 hours of additional traffic patrols?

Mr C.J. Barnett interjected.

Mrs M.H. ROBERTS: The Premier can make a joke of this, but it is costing lives on our roads.

Several members interjected.

The SPEAKER: Member for Midland!

Mrs M.H. ROBERTS: I seek to ask my supplementary question. What has happened to the promised 64 000 hours that the minister has not delivered?

Mrs L.M. HARVEY replied:

With a question seeking information of that specific nature, I request that the member put it on notice.

Mrs M.H. Roberts: I have put it on notice; I asked the minister during the estimates hearings. You have broken your promise. Admit that you've broken your promise.

Mrs L.M. HARVEY: Complex and detailed statistical information on the number of actual traffic hours performed in a calendar year are more appropriately requested on notice.

Mrs M.H. Roberts: Too interested in the fashion festival to know about road safety.

The SPEAKER: Thank you very much, member for Midland! I call you to order for the first time.
