

ARMADALE POLICE STATION — HOURS

318. Dr A.D. BUTI to the Minister for Police:

The minister has made various statements in this house and in the media that Armadale Police Station is “manned 24/7”. Can the minister please clarify what she means by “manned 24/7”?

Mrs L.M. HARVEY replied:

I thank the member for Armadale for the question. Saying that Armadale Police Station is manned 24 hours a day means, just to make it really clear for the member for Armadale—most people seem to understand plain English—that police officers are operating out of Armadale Police Station 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and police officers will be performing all kinds of duties such as processing people and processing reports 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
