

PUBLIC TRANSPORT AUTHORITY — ACCESS TO PUBLIC TRANSPORT SERVICES

281. Hon KEN TRAVERS to the Minister for Transport:

Will the minister table the Public Transport Authority's publication "Perth Public Transport Area Map", which defines the areas that have adequate access to good public transport services?

Hon SIMON O'BRIEN replied:

No. A publication of that description does not exist but a map entitled "Perth Public Transport Area Acceptable Service Level KPI 2009" can be tabled. That identifies households within the PPTA that have acceptable levels of public transport. "Acceptable level of service" is defined as households that are within 500 metres of a Transperth stop that have an hourly service during the day with at least three trips an hour—that is, at 20-minute intervals—in the peak flow direction in the morning and afternoon peak hours. This measure is a key performance indicator that is shown in the Public Transport Authority's annual report. I table a copy of that map.

[See paper 2055.]