

INFRASTRUCTURE — SOUTH WEST

532. Hon SIMON O'BRIEN to the Minister for Regional Development:

I refer to the McGowan Labor government's "Plan for Collie–Preston", and the Premier's media statement on Friday, 1 September, which stated —

"In the South-West alone, the McGowan Government will spend $636 million on critical infrastructure over the next four years.

Of the $636 million, how much of this funding will go towards critical infrastructure in the electorates of Collie–Preston, Vasse, Bunbury and Warren–Blackwood?

Hon ALANNAH MacTIERNAN replied:

I thank the member for the question. I apologise, because I think these questions came from another member earlier and they have obviously distanced themselves from them.

Unfortunately, the departmental systems are not configured to report by electorate and there are a number of budget line items that will traverse multiple locations, so I am unable to provide an accurate breakdown on a seat-by-seat basis. However, I can assure the member that there is a great spread of investment across all five electorates in the south west and these will be detailed in tomorrow's budget.
