

REGISTERED TRAINING ORGANISATIONS — REGULATIONS

527. Mr F.M. LOGAN to the Minister for Training and Workforce Development:

I have a supplementary question. When will the Minister for Training and Workforce Development take direct action against these rogue training companies?

Mrs L.M. HARVEY replied:

The TAC does take action against those companies and there are several levels of sanction that can be applied.

Mr F.M. Logan interjected.

The SPEAKER: Member for Cockburn! Thank you.

Mrs L.M. HARVEY: As I said previously, the TAC —

Mr F.M. Logan: What are you going to do?

The SPEAKER: Member for Cockburn, I call you to order for the first time. You have asked a supplementary question; let the minister answer it.

Mrs L.M. HARVEY: As I mentioned previously, the TAC was constrained by the sanctions that it could apply by federal regulations, which have been addressed to a degree. What I do, member for Cockburn, is bring those issues that come under that federal regulatory system to Hon Simon Birmingham's attention, who is the parliamentary secretary responsible for training. We have a very good working relationship and a joint objective to try to streamline processes within the training sector.
