Let's stop this failed war on drugs hey? It clearly isn't working. All the wasted tax spent on destroying lives and livelihoods for using a natural substance that has been apart of human life since the beginning of human life. Think of all the tax money that could be raised and used for education, rehabilitation. It's time to start listening to the masses and bring in progressive drug law reform.

Yours sincerely a hard working, tax paying everyday Australian, that just wants to be able to smoke a joint in the evening without fear of prosecution or the prospect of loosing my job.
