

Environment and Public Affairs Committee

---

From: su brown
Sent: Wednesday, 18 September 2013 6:34 PM
To: Environment and Public Affairs Committee
Subject: Gas Fracking

In regards to the Parliamentary Inquiry into Gas Fracking and the guideline
Re: the regulation of highly toxic chemicals and the use of groundwater for fracking then recycling the groundwater used...

Please be advised by this email that before this inquiry begins, you as members of the committee need to ask {yourselves in all honesty }

1: How can you or anyone else regulate Noxious Toxic chemicals and groundwater (together) under conditions such as fracking creates?

I am compelled to point out that unfortunately for tax payers and citizens, Mr Barnett couldn't even check the corroding pipework on the Muja Power Station before going ahead and spending $16.8 million dollars refurbishing it only to realise (a little too late wouldn't you all agree) that the spend is worthless, due to the pipes. This is why I do not trust the ability to regulate anything in an industry as obviously corrupt as Fracking.

Yours very sincerely,
Susan Brown.