

I have applied to have my daughter on the 11 Mile Beach bus in Esperance WA but unfortunately she has been rejected as she currently goes to a school outside of the catchment for that specific bus. We are now having to change her school to allow her to go on the bus. We have been told by the PTA that my daughter will become a priority application but cannot be guaranteed a seat right now as the bus is at full capacity. There is an obvious need for a bigger bus for that contract- has been for a number of years apparently. Why hasn't this been done before?
