

To whom it may concern, the orange bud service provided to the residents of Jarrahdale and surrounds are vital to the safe and reliable transportation of our valuable children.

Not only is it just a bud service it's a personal and safe service for the parents to feel comfortable using.

The bus drivers go above and beyond to ensure the safety of our children , checking seat belts are worn , no misbehaving by children or bullying , the drivers know all the children personally and are always contactable if required, the bus drivers have good relationships with the parents, and most of all we trust them.

The drivers pick up all around the town and surrounds ensuring that are children do not have to walk long distances in bad weather and on roads with no lighting or footpaths , yes , we are very rural out here , this is a heritage town with little or no lighting and paths.

The new proposal has only one pick up point which is not practical for many parents .

As it stands at the moment all children and parents have the routine of the bus service as we need it , if this is changed in any way this could also affect the parents work schedules , it's just not the kids you are affecting , it has a huge knock on affect for all.

Please reconsider the proposed changes , there is no need to to rock the boat because some government official who is sat in an air conditioned office decides to change the boundaries, yes SJ shire is growing , but not up here in Jarrahdale , I have lived here since 2005 and very little has changed , please please reconsider this ridiculous proposal.

Kind regards
