

Booking Guidelines

The criteria for hosting functions, events or meetings within Parliament House is determined by the Presiding Officers. Parliament House is a work environment and these guidelines were established to ensure that the operations of the Parliament are not impeded.

Functions are planned and approved occasions in a designated “function” space where full catering services are provided; this includes food, beverages and service.

Events are planned occasions, generally involving larger groups and for longer periods than a meeting, and where self-serve catering trolleys are pre-ordered and placed in the room. Events can be held in the larger rooms such as a “party” room. Any meetings or events outside of standard building access hours are considered “after-hours events” and may incur an additional cost.

Meetings are held in one of the four meeting rooms. The room capacity determines the maximum guests and self-serve catering trolleys can be prearranged. Meeting room bookings are a maximum of two hours. Meeting rooms cannot be booked more than two weeks in advance. Where a meeting room is booked, a member of Parliament must attend the entire meeting.

1. Hosting at Parliament

- Functions at Parliament House of Western Australia must be of either Parliamentary (portfolio or constituency) or Executive Government in nature, and hosted by a current Member of Parliament (the event organiser). Functions may not be of a private or political nature.
- All function/event bookings are subject to approval by the Executive Manager Parliamentary Services and the Presiding Officers (the “approver”).
- Where there are multiple requests in the same area priority will be given firstly to the Presiding Officers, then to a parliamentary department, followed by Ministers and then backbenchers.
- Functions and/or events held at Parliament House cannot be used to fundraise.
- As facilities at Parliament House are limited, functions, events and/or meetings may be subject to specific requirements and/or restrictions to ensure that the operations of the Houses and Member(s) activities are not impacted.

2. Function/event/meeting hours

Parliament House is open from 8.00 am until 5.00 pm on non-sitting days and on sitting days until the last House is scheduled to rise. Functions, events and/or meetings held outside these times are treated as an “after-hours event”. Additional costs will apply to cover expenses such as building security and staffing when required. Facilities are not available on weekends.

3. Maximum Capacity of Function Areas

In accordance with occupational health and safety guidelines, guest capacities in all function spaces must be adhered to.

The function/event organiser is to provide people to assist with the meet, greet and ushering of their guests throughout the event including when leaving the building (one escort per 20 guests). These people are responsible for the coordination of the function/event and are required to sign in at least one hour before the event at the main entrance security desk for a security briefing and to obtain access pass. This pass must be returned to the front security desk when exiting the building.

Members may have photographs or film taken of them with or without guests, in their Chamber on non-sitting days without seeking permission (refer to each House's Guidelines for Photography and Filming for specific conditions). For any other purpose, the Presiding Officer needs to specifically approve photographs and film in his or her respective Chamber. The Presiding Officers may determine specific requirements and restrictions on a case-by-case basis.

If limited photography or media coverage is desired, it should be requested at the time of booking. The event organiser will need to seek permission from the Presiding Officers in advance of the function. The Presiding Officers may, at their discretion, allow photographs and filming to take place under specific conditions. These conditions will include the requirement that the photographs and film shall not:
