Attention: Mr David Driscoll

Dear Mr Driscoll,

CORRECTION TO TRANSCRIPT OF EVIDENCE

I have read the transcript of evidence which I gave to the Standing Committee on Environment and Public Affairs on Wednesday 20 March 2002 and I wish to clarify a response I gave to a question posed by the Honourable Mr Bruce Donaldson.

His question was: "Do you know of any other liquor burners around the world?", and I replied: "No, I am not familiar with other liquor burners around the world."

This question followed a previous question from Mr Donaldson about liquor burners in Japan and Spain, and it was my interpretation at the time that he was asking whether I knew of other liquor burners outside of Australia. While I am aware that there are a couple of liquor burners outside of Australia, I have no knowledge of their operational processes, as I stated in my response.

However, if the intent of his question was to determine my knowledge of liquor burners anywhere in the world, including Australia, then I must state that I am aware of Alcoa's liquor burner at Kwinana and Worsley's liquor burner at Collie, and that I do have some knowledge of these two plants.

Yours sincerely,

KEITH JAMES
