QUESTIONS ASKED TODAY

---

Notice Given                      Tuesday, 18 June 2024

2065. Hon Dr Steve Thomas to the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Training and Workforce Development:

I refer to the current trend of workers undertaking working from home, and I ask:

- (a) what is the workers compensation legal liability of employers for injury and accidents that occur in home workplaces;
- (b) what part of the legislative framework determines the liability in part (a);
- (c) what is the workers compensation legal liability of the owners of the property in which injuries occur for injury and accidents that occur in home workplaces;
- (d) what part of the legislative framework determines the liability in part (c);
- (e) are employers required to conduct workplace safety assessments of the work-from-home environment of their employees;
- (f) if yes to (e), under what legislative or regulatory instrument;
- (g) what legal precedent is the Government relying upon to determine liability for work-from-home injuries;
- (h) how are other jurisdictions managing the liability for work-from-home injuries; and
- (i) where can business owners and employers go for advice on this issue?

SAM HASTINGS

Clerk of the Legislative Council
