17. President's Ruling — Bush Fires Amendment Bill 2022

The President ruled as follows —

Hon Martin Aldridge raised a point of order in relation to whether the Bush Fires Amendment Bill 2022 was a uniform Bill.

At the conclusion of the Minister for Emergency Services' second reading speech he advised the House that:

Pursuant to Standing Order 126(1), I advise that this bill is not a uniform legislation bill. It does not ratify or give effect to an intergovernmental or multilateral agreement to which the government of the state is a party; nor does this bill, by reason of its subject matter, introduce a uniform scheme or uniform laws throughout the Commonwealth.

The history of Standing Order 126 and its application was explored in detail by President Doust when she considered a similar point of order on 7 September 2017.

At that time, it was noted that Standing Order 126 provides that the House may order that a Bill is a uniform legislation Bill, notwithstanding the contrary advice of the Member in charge of the Bill. A member may move a referral motion in accordance with Standing Order 126(3) without notice upon resumption of the second reading debate on the Bill.

I take the same approach as this recent example and make no ruling about whether the Bill should be referred under Standing Order 126. It is a matter for the House itself to determine.
