7. President's Ruling — Application of SO 104 to Matters Pertaining to Actions of Previous Minister

The President ruled as follows —

At the Council's last sitting I advised that House that I would consider a point of order raised by Hon Nick Goiran and provide a ruling at a later date. The point of order related to the answer to Question on Notice 886 provided to the Member by the Minister for Mental Health representing the Minister for Police.

Question on Notice 886 asked the Minister for Mental Health representing the Minister for Police, "Did the Commissioner of Police ever raise this issue with the Minister for Police who immediately preceded the current Minister". The Minister for Mental Health representing the Minister for Police replied, "I refer the Honourable Member to Standing Order 104".

While I'm sure the Minister was trying to be helpful with his answer, it is and has always been the role of the presiding officer to determine if a question is in breach of the Standing Orders.

Standing Order 104 provides that questions may be asked of a Minister or Parliamentary Secretary relating to three types of matter:

- to public affairs with which the Minister or Parliamentary Secretary is connected;
- to proceedings in the Council; or
- to any matter of administration for which the Minister or Parliamentary Secretary is responsible".

These three areas are very broad. Under the principle of responsible government ministers are responsible to Parliament individually and are accountable for the administration of their own portfolios and for the acts of government collectively.

The Hon Nick Goiran's question asked whether the Commissioner of Police ever raised an issue with the former Minister. The actions taken by the Commissioner of Police are a matter of public affairs and administration to which the Minister for Police is connected. Any suggestion that matters pertaining to public affairs or administration that occurred during a former Minister's time are beyond the scope of Standing Order 104 is contradictory to the principle of responsible government.

My ruling is that the Hon Nick Goiran's question was not out of order.

However, rulings of successive Presidents of the Legislative Council have been consistent in stating that it is not the responsibility of the Chair to tell Ministers how they should respond to questions. This is purely a matter for Ministers, provided that their answers comply with the Standing Orders. While Members may not agree with the answer to their questions and sometimes Members do not like the answers, that is the Minister's answer.

8. Constitutional and Electoral Legislation Amendment (Electoral Equality) Bill 2021

Resumption of consideration of this Bill in Committee of the Whole House (see item 6 above).

In Committee

(Hon Martin Aldridge in the Chair)

Clause 1.

Debate resumed.

The Parliamentary Secretary to the Attorney General tabled an answer to a question on notice prior to the Estimates hearings in relation to the Ministerial Expert Committee on Electoral Reform. (Tabled Paper 859).

Debate resumed.

Interruption pursuant to order.

The President resumed the Chair.

The Chair of Committees reported that the Committee of the Whole House had considered the Bill, made progress, and seeks to sit again.

Ordered — That the Committee of the Whole House sit again.

9. Statement by President — Commonwealth Parliamentary Association Seminar

The President made the following Statement —

Members, I would like to comment on the very successful thirty-ninth Commonwealth Parliamentary Association Australia and Pacific Region conference that was held here in the Parliament of Western Australia last week. It was hosted and run by the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association WA branch and was incredibly successful. It was our pleasure to host delegates in person from South Australia, Tasmania and the Northern Territory and to have many other delegates online, because it was a hybrid conference, from right across the Australian jurisdictions, Fiji and the CPA United Kingdom. The theme for the conference was Parliaments, people and pandemics, known for the alliteration. The themes were broad enough and relevant to today's Parliaments to enable presenters to give papers on a wide range of topics, and there were, indeed, a wide range of topics. I was personally impressed by the detailed work that presenters have undertaken to develop their papers and by the depth of thinking and the broad range of issues covered.

I would like to thank all those presenters from Western Australia who took the time to participate in the conference and make presentations—in particular, those Members from this Chamber who made such an incredible contribution. To Hon Sandra Carr, Hon Jackie Jarvis, Hon Ayor Makur Chuot, Hon Lorna Harper, Hon Pierre Yang and Hon Colin de Grussa, thank you very much for your time. I greatly admire the work that you did before making your presentations.

A unique presentation was made by the deputy chair of the conference, the Speaker of the Northern Territory Parliament, Hon Ngaree Ah Kit. She hosted a hybrid panel discussion—probably the first of its kind—on Aboriginal people and Parliaments, with four members of Parliament, including our own Hon Rosie Sahanna, who gave a fantastic presentation, Divina D'Anna, the Member for Kimberley, Ms Sheena Watt, a Member of the Legislative Council in Victoria, and for a very brief period, a dear friend of mine, Kyam Maher, from South Australia. That was the only point at which technology let us down, so Kyam could not continue with his contribution. That was an outstanding panel. I recommend all Members look at all the papers when they are available online through the CPA conference website, and in particular spend time listening to the Aboriginal MPs and their experience of Parliament.

I recommend that Members read the opening address by Professor Colleen Hayward. It was an outstanding address on the broad themes of the conference, but so very cleverly woven together to make a very important statement around reconciliation, participation and sovereignty. When that is available, I will let Members know. I highly recommend it.

Much was learnt from this conference, including some forms of professional development. Deep personal and professional friendships were developed, information was shared and, at a technical level, we now know that within our own Parliament we have the technology and the skills to produce a hybrid conference whenever that is required of our Parliament.

I have lots of people to thank, including the deputy chair, Speaker Ah Kitt, all the presenters, as I said, all the delegates, in person and online, and the honorary secretary of the CPA WA branch, Mr Nigel Pratt. He and his team worked tirelessly for over a year or more, particularly in the last few months, to bring this conference together. I also thank Rebecca Burton, Kelly Alcock, Kristina Crichton, Anne Day, Tina O'Connor; in broadcasting, Graeme Orr and David Embry; and in IT, David Graham and Brayden Arnold. Of course, I wish to thank our very popular catering team for looking after us. Thank you, everyone, for being involved in such a highly successful conference.

10. Members' Statements

Statements were taken.

11. Adjournment

The Council adjourned at 10.12pm until Wednesday, 10 November 2021 at 1.00pm.

Members present during the day's proceedings

Attendance: Present all Members except Hon Wilson Tucker.

NIGEL PRATT

Clerk of the Legislative Council

HON ALANNA CLOHESY MLC

President of the Legislative Council
