ELECTORAL AMENDMENT (FINANCE AND OTHER MATTERS) BILL 2023

GENERAL OUTLINE

The Electoral Amendment (Finance and other Matters) Bill 2023 effects electoral reforms to the political finance system and introduces a modern Electoral Act for Western Australia, as summarised below.

1. Changes to modernise the Electoral Act 1907 provide (amongst other matters) that:
 - a. when the Electoral Commissioner performs a function under the Act, the Electoral Commissioner is to have regard to an inclusivity principle so that vulnerable groups are given a reasonable opportunity to enrol and vote;
 - b. campaign workers are recognised in the Act;
 - c. the pre-poll period has been reduced to 11 days (and to 14 days for mobile voting places, for example, which are in use in remote areas or institutions);
 - d. polling places will have designated entrances;
 - e. electors who have moved between districts and lived in the new district for more than one month prior to election day will now be able to apply to vote, and then provisionally vote in the district in which they currently reside, on polling day and during the pre-poll period;
 - f. how-to-vote cards must be registered;
 - g. voting has been streamlined and clarified to distinguish between:
 - i. ordinary voting at polling places,
 - ii. early voting at polling places,
 - iii. voting at mobile voting places,

- iv. declaration voting at polling places,
 - v. postal voting, and
 - vi. technology assisted voting for eligible electors;
 - h. early ballot papers are no longer required to be placed into envelopes;
 - i. the Electoral Commission may update the roll based on information from State government agencies;
 - j. like most other states, 16-year-old persons may provisionally enrol, but cannot vote; and
 - k. language used in the Act has been modernised.
2. The Bill introduces a ban on foreign donors.
 3. Parties that are registered federally can no longer comply with donation disclosure laws by lodging a return prepared in compliance with the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918.
 4. The Bill introduces electoral expenditure caps to be adjusted annually in line with the consumer price index (CPI), unless that would result in an amount that is less than the previous cap or specified amount.
 5. The Bill introduces one of the most rapid disclosure periods for donations in Australia. All donations must be disclosed within 7 days outside of the capped expenditure period and by the end of the next business day within the capped expenditure period. It is intended that disclosures will be made electronically on a portal managed by the WAEC.
 6. All political participants are to establish a state campaign account for the purpose of electoral expenditure:
 - a. Electoral expenditure must be paid from the campaign account;
 - b. Donations, membership subscriptions, and other income may be paid into the campaign account; and
 - c. Monies purposed for Commonwealth elections and foreign donations must not be paid into a campaign account.

7. The Bill introduces a higher rate of electoral expenditure reimbursement, increased from $2.26 to $4.40 per primary vote. This new rate is still lower than all public funding per elector for the Australian Capital Territory, the Commonwealth, New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, and Victoria. Parties and non-party candidates must opt in to receive the higher rate.
8. There are currently no limits on electoral expenditure in Western Australia. Excessive electoral expenditure undermines democracy and can lead to an increasingly inequitable playing field. Political parties, their associated entities and endorsed candidates as well as non-party candidates are at liberty to spend (and raise) increasingly large war-chests in their effort to be elected. Third-party campaigners such as corporations and trade unions, while not being able to vote on election day, are also not subject to an expenditure cap – allowing them to potentially exert considerable influence on the preferences of electors.
9. New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, the ACT, the Northern Territory and Tasmania all impose some form of electoral expenditure caps. In order to strengthen democracy and level the playing field, the Bill introduces electoral expenditure caps for all political participants as outlined in the table below:

Legislative Assembly Expenditure caps (permitted expenditure)
Candidate district cap		$130,000
Maximum permitted Party expenditure for State general election (Party cap)		$59 \times $130,000 = $7,670,000$

Legislative Council Expenditure caps (permitted expenditure)

Max. permitted Party expenditure for State general election (Party cap)		$$65,000 \times 37 = $2,405,000$

Third Party Campaigners Expenditure caps (permitted expenditure)
